

Shooting Through the ages

Clay shooting in the grounds... with a difference! your targets are remote controlled aircraft that can travel at speeds of up to 100mph! For the more eccentric: perhaps cannon firing and some musketry – even duelling on the lawns with the genuine article!

These are all part of this ever-increasing suite of choices, designed to satisfy the quirkiest of tastes. For the more delinquent sales team we offer a comprehensive Boot Camp Training Programme comprising the very best military training which involves putting platoons of guests head to head against one another in a series of battlefield engagements!

Shooting is an ever-popular and engaging activity that provides the ultimate sporting challenge. Our expertise lies in the design of shooting activities that take guests through the ages. A course of musketry, mixed with the thrills of loading and aiming medieval mortars provides a comprehensive view of the advent of gunpowder in a highly entertaining way.

Moving through the centuries, our "Dad's Army" boot camps provide an entertaining mix of field gun challenges – as seen in the Royal Tournament, Regimental Sergeant Major, Drill parades and mess tent building against the clock!

This ever-popular theme draws on Beaulieu's less well-known wartime heritage and features a storyline taken from the period when the Home Guard was hard at work protecting the coast!

Our up-to-the minute Agent Training programme makes the best use of Beaulieu's James Bond Experience to launch guests into a hi-tech game of spy versus spy – and a wealth of opportunities to bespoke and brand your delegates' mission to incorporate a corporate message. Digital technology, satellite navigation, themed actors threatening espionage at every turn and an impressive array of flight cases provide an exciting backdrop to the adventure!
